NAVAL WAR COLLEGE
Newport, R. I.

Office of the President

7 June 1949

Dear Roscoe:

It is hoped that we again may have the pleasure and benefit of a talk by you. Monday, September 26th, fits in very well with our program, and we hope that this date will prove convenient for you. As a subject we would suggest "National Intelligence Requirements and the C.I.A."

You may recall that last year we had General Donovan here for "Needs of the Nation in Intelligence." His talk complemented your own on "Federal Intelligence Agencies and the C.I.A.," but he will not be here again, and we hope that you will slant your talk a bit in the direction of his subject.

If you are planning to use slides, we will be glad to have them prepared for you. Material should be in our hands about two weeks in advance of the lecture.

As before, we desire to have a talk of about forty-five minutes, to be followed after a short break by a period devoted to questions from the audience. In addition to the Naval, Marine Corps, Army, Air Force and Coast Guard officers, we expect one Foreign Service officer, four officers of the Royal Navy, and one officer of the Royal Canadian Navy to attend the next War College session.

Upon hearing affirmatively, we will write you further concerning transportation details. Captain Howe of the Staff, whom you know, will be in Washington next month in connection with lecture program matters, and will be pleased to contact you if you wish to discuss anything with him.

Sincerely,

/s/ D. B. Beary
